

*Use Technology
Where You Need It*

Eliminate Footsteps by mounting existing wireless technology on a powered cart and perform work functions at the actual point of work aka point of greatest productivity.

When one considers there are employees who walk at least 25% of their shift going back and forth to to access technology, this represents about 10,700 footsteps. Therein is the opportunity to be more efficient. The use of powered carts can obsolete footsteps making for a compelling ROI. A fact not lost on our clients
